Eighteenth Sunday in Ordinary Time

The Miracle of the Loaves of Bread and Fish.

Jesus taught the vast crowds that followed Him, and His heart was moved with pity for them, and He cured their sick. Mt 14:14 When evening came, He fed them; "Taking the five loaves and two fish, and looking up to Heaven, He said the blessing, broke the loaves, and gave them to His Disciples, who then gave them to the crowds to eat." Mt 14:19

As in the miracle of the multiplication of the loaves of bread, Jesus gives Himself totally to us spiritually in the Eucharist. And as with Communion, there is always enough left over after all have received that the rest is returned to the Tabernacle for safekeeping, so that nothing is wasted. One can view this as poor planning: not taking a count of all those that want to receive Him. However, it is the opposite that is the reality. God always pours out an abundance of grace upon His people and it is His people that choose not to partake and receive Him.

This truth of not accepting the Lord to be our life's guide is true not just for the lowly, but also for teachers and governors of the faith and of society. When we appease and connive the masses that are beholden to us telling them what they want to hear and do not act to uphold God's Commandments, we cheat God of His due praise. This in turn makes our sacrifices to Him defective and defiles the table of the Lord causing His people to withhold tithes and sacrificial contributions. This causes more misery and more impoverishment.

When is it that our God does not give Himself to us wholly? Rather is it not that we are those, who choose not to accept Him? By saying, "All evildoers are good in the sight of the Lord, and He is pleased with them." Mal 2:17 Or, we might say, "The evildoers not only prosper, but even test God and escape." Mal 3:15 From these you might conclude, it is okay to sin. But this is not what Our Lord means when He allows both good and evil to grow up alongside each other. He expects the good to hold fast to His Commandments, and gives evildoers time to repent and mend their ways. But no one escapes His judgment.

It is right and just for those, who can strengthen and discipline by their words of instruction, to do so and keep the Commandments of the Lord, for the day of reckoning will come or may already be upon us, which time we may have squandered. On that day, Our Lord will be moved with pity to cure us of our sicknesses and yet we will still send back the wicker baskets twelve times full of leftover graces.
